

'TIS THE SEASON...

...are you ready?

'Tis The Season is all about preparing your dog, and yourself, for the up and coming shooting season... We all get rusty out of season, and so brushing up on handling techniques and whistle work helps to dust down your skills.

Different terrains will be introduced adding complexity and excitement to challenge your dog's steadiness, before bringing in the excitement of the starter pistol, dummy launcher and working with dressed dummies and cold game.

Our training days are tailored entirely to your group and our forward-thinking and modern approach to gundog training is an eye-opening experience.

The day will run from 10:00 til 4:30 with registration and briefing at 9:30

If you want to have a great day out with your gundog, gain some fantastic insights into dog behaviour as well as new and effective training techniques then book now as group sizes are small making spaces very limited; full payment of £75 will be required to secure booking
